

To Whomsoever It May Concern

Ms Purva Aggarwal is an actor with talent and potential.

She actively participated in Performing Arts Classes held at Bluebells School International (facilitated by me and Ms Shibani Puri), and also acted in 'The Conscience Keeper', a play directed by me and performed at Siri Fort Auditorium in October 2012 as part of her school's.

She also did a bit of clowning work with Aanchal Nandrajog of the Centre for Creative Expressions, to then masterfully mount on her school's competition stage, a delightful clown act in the summer of 2013.

I am sure by participating in more workshops, plays and readings, Ms Aggarwal will only find deeper connections with the performer and creator in herself. I wish her all the very best in a wonderful journey ahead.

Love and Light,

Dilip Shankar

Theatre Director

Centre for Creative Expressions

B-80, Sector 14, NOIDA

Mob: 9818331651